Greensboro First Presbyterian to host 'Streams of Mercy'

First Presbyterian Church of Greensboro will host "Streams of Mercy," this year's Community Hymn Sing, on Sunday, July 27 at 5 p.m. Hymns will be selected from the old Cokesbury Hymnal, which is a hymnal used by previous generations of fellow believers.

Everyone attending is asked to find one of their favorite hymns in the Cokesbury Hymnal and "shout out" that hymn's page number. After everyone in the congregation has a few moments to turn to that page, all in attendance will make a joyful noise and sing that hymn together as one body.

The church will joyfully pay tribute to God and to those who have gone before us as by singing traditional hymns that were so meaningful to those who came before.

The next event in the Summer Series will feature the return of the Doug Flowers Band with the music of bluegrass on Sunday, Aug. 27 at 5 p.m.. The First Presbyterian Church of Greensboro is located at 117 South Main Street (next to the post office) in downtown Greensboro.

LO Elks sponsor Second Harvest

Twenty-nine Lake Oconee Elks Lodge volunteers attended a food distribution Saturday, July 19, for Second Harvest, a project of the Rotary Club of Greene and Putnam Counties. Its mission is to eliminate hunger in Putnam, Greene, and Taliaferro counties.

To date, Second Harvest and its volunteers have distributed more than two-million pounds of food. Additionally, the Oconee Regional Humane Society also participates to distribute pet food and supplies. The Lake Oconee Elks Lodge has many volunteers known as "Red Shirts" who also attend and help distribute food each month and have been doing so for many years.

For July, the Lake Oconee Elks Lodge presented a check for $3,000 to Second Harvest. Attending the presentation were (l-r): Elk Bob Colie, Second Harvest President Bill Bonnington, Elks Dom Serra and Mary Zachary, and Elks Lodge President John White.
